

A blank hierarchical diagram template. It features a central vertical line that splits into two main horizontal branches. Each of these branches further splits into two sub-branches, creating a total of four terminal points on the right side. The diagram is composed of simple black lines on a white background, with no text or other markings.