The pedigree chart is a horizontal tree structure. It begins with a single line on the left that splits into two main branches. Each main branch further splits into three sub-branches, resulting in a total of six sub-branches. Each sub-branch is represented by a horizontal line that tapers at its ends to connect to the parent and child lines. The chart is designed for recording the lineage of a dog, with the top half likely representing the sire's side and the bottom half representing the dam's side.
