

Llewellyn Setter
Female

A blank template for a dichotomous key. It features a central vertical line that splits into two main horizontal branches. Each of these branches further splits into two more horizontal branches, creating a total of eight horizontal lines for text entry. The lines are arranged in a symmetrical, tree-like structure, typical of a dichotomous key layout.